

CRYPTOGRAPHIC ENGINEER-RESEARCHER (OF0320)

Job description: Gradiant is looking for a Cyber Security Engineer-Researcher to join in the Security and Privacy team participating in projects with a clear product orientation. The person who joins will be integrated into a multidisciplinary team of cybersecurity engineer researchers and will work with innovative technologies for the development of market-oriented solutions. He or she will assume research, analysis, design and development functions for solutions to be put into production, using continuous integration and agile development methodologies.

Main responsibilities:

- Participation in the development of market-oriented cybersecurity solutions
- Software development and debugging for different operating systems (Windows, Linux and MacOS)
- Research, proposal and development of technological solutions, ensuring the quality of the code

Habilidades profesionales

- Engineering, Degree or Master in Telecommunications, Computer Science or related studies.
- At least 2-3 years experience in software development, within a team with a passion for clean and maintainable code
- Demonstrable experience in C/C++, C#, Java (Spring)
- Knowledge in:

Cryptography

Cybersecurity

English (B2)

What do we offer?

- Integration in a dynamic team for the development of technological solutions in the field of cybersecurity
- To be up to date in the field of cybersecurity, with the state of the art of the industry and with the most innovative tools of the marketCareer development in the field of cybersecurity
- Salary range: around 24,000 FBA depending on the experience provided by the candidate
- Excellent working environment with time flexibility
- Training and professional development programs
- Immediate incorporation